Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on _____.
- 2a) This action is FINAL.                                    2b) This action is non-final.
- 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fujita et al.

Fujita et al disclose a toner fixing device comprising a fixing member 34; a pressing member 35 formed opposite to the fixing member to form a nip (Fig. 11); a main power source 3; an electric double-layer capacitor 4 (Col. 6, lines 3-7); a charger 6 connecting the electric double-layer capacitor to the main power source (Fig. 2); a fixing member heater 2 connected to the electric double-layer capacitor (Fig. 2); a switch 7 disposed between the electric double layer capacitor and the fixing member heater (Fig. 2); a fixing member temperature sensor 13 in contact with the fixing member; and a controller 8 to control the switch such that the electric double-layer capacitor is connected or disconnected from the heater based on comparing a temperature sensed by the fixing member temperature sensor to a temperature threshold value (Col. 7, lines 42-60), and a toner image is fixed onto a recording medium passing through the nip (Fig. 14).

Fujita et al further disclose the main power source is also connected to the heater (Fig. 2); the fixing member heater comprising a first fixing member heater 2b supplied with power from the electric double-layer capacitor; and a second fixing member heater 2a supplied with power from the main power source (Fig 2); the controller controls the battery unit to operate in the limited mode of operation during a ramp-up time before fixing images onto the recording medium (Col. 2, lines 18-36); the controller connects the battery unit to the fixing member heater after a sensed fixing member temperature continuously decreases during a predetermined period (Col. 25, lines 37-54); the controller to calculate a heat load based on a printing mode and control the switch accordingly (Col. 27, lines 47-67).

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Hoang Ngo whose telephone number is (571) 272-2138. The examiner can normally be reached on 6:00am - 2:30pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Arthur Grimley can be reached on (571) 272-2136. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
